A Great Conflagration That sweeps away a whole city, starts from a flame so small that a glass of water would extinguish it. In like manner, the most painful and fatal maladies of the throat and lungs ordinatily develop from small beginnings, not difficult of cure if promptly treated with the proper remedy. But their progress in insidious and delay may be fatal. Colds and coughs lend to Laryngitis, Asthma, Bronchitis, Pusumonia, and Consumption. The only medi-oine certain to cure every bronchial and pul-monary effection not absolutely incurable is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. During 40 years it has steadily grown in popplar cetimation, and is now a bousehold reliance in many thousands of families. Parents, whose lives were preserved by Aven's Cherry Pectonal when they were young, are now sav-ing the lives of their children with it. Leading physicians exiol its virtues and prescribe it in their practice. Intelligent druggists everywhere report noteworthy cures effected by it, within their personal knowledge.

PREPARED BY Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all druggists.

THE Saigennais, quoting from the Nouvelle Presse, says :- It is now certain that M. Ferry intends to propose to the Council of Ministers a complete change in the plan of campaign followed hitherto in China and Tonquin. They are to entirely give up the occupation of Keeling and Tamsui, and the land forces which have been placed at the disposition of Admiral Courbet will be at once sent to Tonquin.

As soon as the season will permit, General Briere de L'Isle, with all the forces recently despatched to the Far Kast, will make himself master of all the provinces of Tonquin, the possession of which by France was acknowledged by the treaty of Tientsin.

Inspector Quencey, at this stage, informed he Coroner that further important evidence had just come to light with regard to this case. Being put into the witness box Inspector Quincey stated that he had been making enquiries and had discovered last night that a hawker who had established his stall in Lyndhurst Terrace on the ovenng of the 6th inst. had seen three Chinese enter the shop and seize the deceased by his mouth while another held him and the third man came and shut the door. The nawker, thinking a fight was going on inside, became frightened and moved his stall away from the locality.

The Coroner then addressed the jury regretting that the evidence of which Inpector Quincey had told them had not sooner been brought before them, as it would have rendered a great deal of the details taken during the morning unnecessary. As, however, the actual evidence of the hawker was not before them and the prisoner was not present they would have to return a verdict on the evidence brought before them independent of the statement made by Inspector Quincey. After a short consideration, the jury returned a verdict to the effect that the deceased was murdered on the evening of the 6th instant, by some person or persons un-says : London breakfast tables will again be uncomfortable this morning over the explosion at Gower-street station. It is station unimportant with regard to surroundings, but one where passengers are apt to be many, for the North-western. Midland and Northern stations are han by, and the station, by reason of its compact quarters, is likely to prove more serious in the way of damage than if the exploders had selected Kensington King's Cross. The Herald correspondent visited the spot and found the reports gross exaggerations. There was a great-scare. but no damago worth mentioning. On passenger had his nose cut and two others were cut in the wrists. The noise of the explosion was unusually great because the road-bed runs through a low tunnel. tunnel and telegraph wires are not at injured. It looks as if a passenger in some compartment, as the train began to move threw against the dead wall a small torpedo perhaps of dynamite. Of course 'A F nian outrage' is the cry.
